

MUSCOGEE CREEK INDIAN FREEDMEN BAND

The Official Website Of The Muscogee Creek Indian Freedmen

The Muscogee Creek Indian Freedmen Band is not a Federally Recognized Tribe. We do not receive federal, tribal benefits such as medical, housing, dental, etc.**

The Descendants of the Muscogee Creek Indian Freedmen have been preserving and documenting the rich history of its ancestors for many years. As a member, you support the vital work of the MCIFB in its quest to acquire and share the unique history of Oklahoma's first families that were removed to Indian Territory in the 18th century. Your continued support is crucial as we continue the quest in pursuit of Federal Recognition.

Membership benefits currently include free admittance to genealogy workshops, free admittance to our museum exhibitions/history programs, discounted rates to conferences and other events, and free assistance in tracing family roots (during our regularly scheduled meetings).
